Introduction and Summary

The purpose of Skate Canada’s Code of Ethics (the “Code”) is to outline the organization’s expectations and guiding principles, at all times, of all individuals of appropriate decision making and behaviour within the Skate Canada community. The Code is our roadmap to maintaining the safety and well-being of all individuals to whom this Code applies within the Skate Canada community.

At Skate Canada, we are committed to our vision, mission and core values. We never allow our ethics or integrity to be compromised by our desire to succeed, regardless of the circumstances of our organization.

Our mission is to be a leader in the delivery of skating programs and have a continuing legacy of champions. It is a mission that sets the bar high, as too does this Code. As we continue to progress and execute against our organizational goals and the opportunities that lie ahead to meet this mission, we must also hold firm to our high standards for ethics.

Scope

This Code applies to all individuals during the business, activities, and events of Skate Canada, including but not limited to, competitions, events, practices, training camps, travel, the workplace environment, and meetings.

This Code may also apply to conduct that occurs outside of Skate Canada business, activities and events when such conduct:

- adversely affects relationships within Skate Canada (and its work and sport environment)
- is detrimental to the image and reputation of Skate Canada
- is sufficiently serious and significant as to be of general importance to skating and/or of general importance to the overall ability of Skate Canada to discharge its objectives

Note: The applicability of the individual’s conduct outside of Skate Canada’s business, activities, and events will be determined by Skate Canada at its sole discretion.

This Code enables the implementation of the Code of Ethics Appeal Procedure (Procedure), designed to set out the framework governing the appeal process.

This Code is to be read in conjunction with the National Safe Sport Program, the Misconduct Reporting and Resolution Policy, General Disputes and Resolution Policy, Incidents of Injury Reporting and Management Policy, Concussion Policy, Anti-Doping Policy, and the Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion and all related documents under each of these policies.

For employees, this Code is to be read in conjunction with the Code of Conduct, Respectful Workplace Policy and procedure thereunder, and the Whistleblower Policy.

For directors of the Board, members of the standing committees of the Board, and members of operating committees, this Code is to be read in conjunction with the Code of Conduct and the Whistleblower Policy.

Guiding Principles

Skate Canada's vision, mission and values form the guiding principles and the building blocks on which this Code rests. Living up to them is an essential part of meeting our organizational strategic imperatives, maintaining our foundational elements, and safeguarding Skate Canada's integrity, reputation and ethical practices. All individuals subject to this Code are expected to uphold and commit to the highest standards of behavior to ensure the safety and well-being of all individuals, exemplified by conduct and written and oral communications, as outlined in the Code.

With respect to our Code of Ethics, these are some of the key ethical principles that guide our actions throughout this Code:

Act and behave with integrity

Integrity is the bedrock principles of our behaviour. It is through integrity that all individuals subject to this Code earn trust. Every individual is clear on the values of Skate Canada and will keep our commitments – to each other and to all of our stakeholders. Every individual will act with good judgment and avoid even the appearance of impropriety.

Treat others with respect, dignity and fairness

Every individual will treat one another with respect, fairness and dignity. Every individual will value equity, diversity and inclusion, and show due consideration for each other's opinions, perspectives, and uniqueness.

Supporting a safe environment

The safety and well-being of all individuals in the Skate Canada community is imperative. It is everyone's collective responsibility to comply with all Safe Sport policies, procedures, education requirements, and program delivery standards and protocols in support of a safe and zero-tolerance environment that is free from all forms of misconduct (which includes maltreatment) abuse of authority, bullying and/or abusive behaviour, harassment and discrimination.

Take Accountability

Every individual will bring their full energy, attention and commitment to their jobs/positions, skating, coaching, officiating, etc. Every individual is accountable for their actions. No individual will deliberately mislead or deceive. Every individual will seek clarification when uncertain and raise concerns when they suspect wrongdoing or a safety concern. All individuals to whom this Code applies have a responsibility to notify the organization immediately of any violation or suspected violation of the Codes. No individual shall retaliate against an individual who has reported an incident in good faith.

Commitment to Excellence

In performing their duties/function, each individual will pursue excellence and strive for continuous improvement.

Good judgment

Every individual will think before they act. When gauging appropriateness of an activity or practice, each individual will be guided by their common sense and sound judgment.
